Activities

On September 2, 1945 the school year opened with one hundred and seventy five pupils enrolled. The classes were begun immediately. The various clubs were organized and made their objectives for the year.

November first the basketball season opened with about thirty five candidates under the direction of Miss Ann Lovern. At an initiative meeting of both girls and boys teams, Madelin Stilwell and Hoover Quesenberry were elected captains. Both teams worked hard and had a splendid record for the year. At the close of the season the teams held a party in the gymnasium.

After being inactive for three years a baseball team was organized, under the direction of Mr. J. R. Allison and Mr. J. A. Hardy; Phil Sayers was elected captain. The teams expect to have a commendable record at the close of the season.

The Home Economics club sponsored by Miss Alice Hancock is an organization to better the future homemakers of America. The club objectives for the year were to join the State and National Homemakers club; raise money for the betterment of the club; improve buildings and sponsor some special activities.

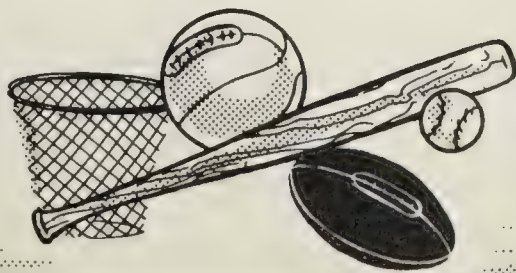

The F F A club sponsored by Mr. J. A. Hardy has made its objectives, and has them well under way. Some objectives are to raise $2500.; pay for the two tractors it has purchased; plow 200 acres of land; and have a joint get together with the Home Economics club each month.

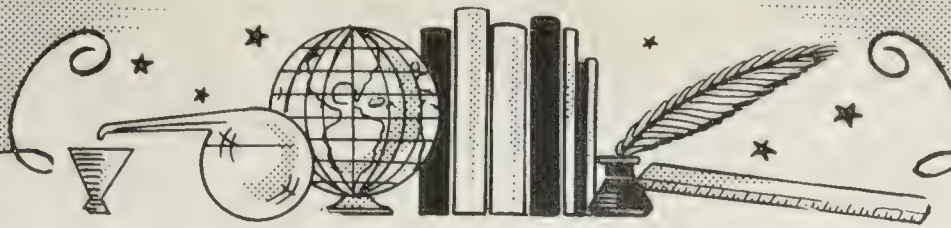

The Dramatics club was organized under the supervision of Miss Lovern. The club thus far has had one party which was well attended.

In order to raise some money for school activities the school sponsored a carnival with each class participating. The affair was well attended with a total amount of $84.77 cleared.

The Beta Club, a club that has not been active for three years, was newly installed April 15. Twenty members were accepted in the club because of their high grades, their cooperation and their leadership in high school. The club is expected to accomplish much in the future.

At this time plans are being made for the F F A and Home Economics clubs annual picnic, the Junior and Senior banquet, class night for the Seniors and graduation class exercises which will be held May 31, 1946.

Class History

The Senior Class of 1946 was first assembled on September 2, 1942 with members from various communities including Draper, Draper's Valley, Allisonia, Hiwassee, Maxcreek, Shiloh, and Snowville. The class was divided into two separate groups with Miss Catherine Cannaway and Mr. Emory Waldrip our Freshmen home room teachers. Mr. De Mott Robertson was our principal at that time.

Our class has been very active in all school and social activities. Various clubs of the school include members from our class. We have presented a number of programs to the satisfaction of the faculty and the student body during the past four years.

The members of our class include Elizabeth Brown, with her ready smile: happy-go-lucky Zylman Burnett: Gladys Duncan, star of the basketball team: Peggy Smith, sure to get somewhere soon; and Lois and Lola Windle, the inseparable twins; all from Draper. Draper's Valley gives us Murphy Crockett, full of fun: Jack Hubbard the future doctor: Garland, Phil, and John Sayers, all promising young men; and Violet Snavley, with her quiet ways.

Marion Covey, with great ambition: Martha Covey, slowly progressing: Marie Duncan, freely expressing her opinion: Mozelle Dishon, a dependable girl: Kathleen Elkins, so quiet: Ruby O'Dell, sweetly indifferent to worries: Zola Phillips, amusing and being amused: Wanda Shelor, the very efficient secretary, and Ruby Shelburn, the typist, are from the section near Snowville.

From Shiloh come mischief loving Francis Farmer: Sherwood Gunn, who studies hard: Earlene Morris, our little dark girl; and Sally Tielke, slightly "tomboyish." In our Sophomore year Miss Julia Francis Farmer had charge of our class. It was at this time Jack Hubbard joined us. Mr. Harry E. Carter became principal.

Our Junior term was under the skillful guidance of Mrs. Elizabeth K McGavock. Here Ruth Shelburn, Phil Sayers, and Juanita Phillips became a part of our class.

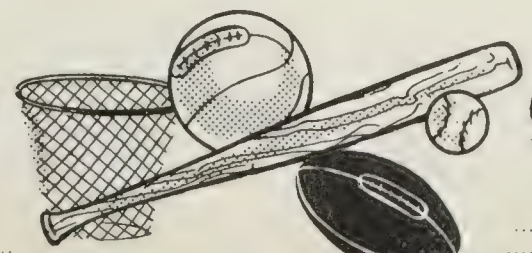

Our last, but not our least important year, has been spent with Mr. Carter, our principal.

Classmates, rest we here a little,
While our life is yet at morn,
Pause and voice the new emotions
That of this glad hour is born.

'Tis the hour which all has led to
Since we heard the first bell's call,
Summoning us to meet together
In the now familiar hall.

Dear old school! How much our days here
Slowly led us on to know,
How much then undreamed of knowledge
We are taking as we go!

Many a day we've sat and pondered
O'er some strangely puzzling text,
Wondering what our wise instructors
Could bring forth to ask us next.

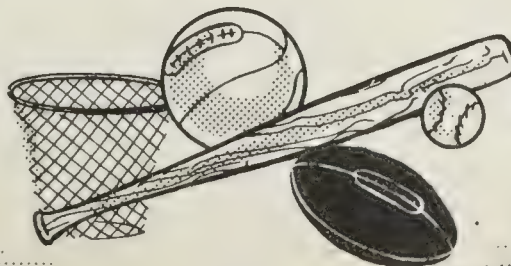

Many a day we've worked some problem
Through in gratifying style,
Trying to make ourselves believe that
We had known it all the while.

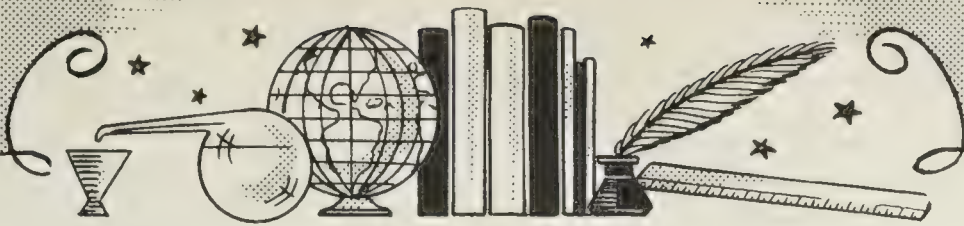

Here about the grounds we have wondered,
Talking over all we've read,
Thinking thoughts too deep for utterance
Dreaming what must ne'er be said.

Then we leaped into the future,
Far as human brain may see,
Saw the vision of our lives
And all the wonders that might be.

Listening for some never! never!
Whispered by the phantom years,
'Till a song from out the distance
Rang its promise in our ears.

Boys will surely come to manhood
Men will surely older grow;
'Till the dreams of future glory
Follow after as we go?

There's the fate that we must turn to
Leaving happy scenes like these,
Are the hours not barred with gold
To open but to golden keys?

Are the gates not thronged with Suitors
Do not markets overflow?
We are young and know so little
There's the place for us to go?

Oh! We've well prepared for for action
Watch us write on History's page,
Names to shine throughout the centuries
As the wonder of the age.

Yearning for the wild excitement
Only strife worth while can yield,
Eager hearted as in classroom
Forging through some new found field.

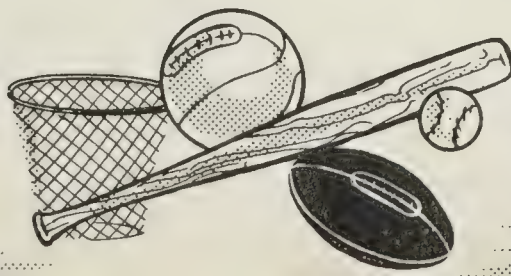

We have conquered in that classroom
We shall win in efforts new,
That which we have done but promise
All the things we yet shall do.

For I doubt not through the future
Life's increasing purpose runs,
And our thoughts too will be widened
By the process of the suns.

Oh commencement! Not the ending
That it seems to all our strife,
But the gate that opens outward
To a bigger, better life.

Classmates, may the crescent promise
Of our spirit never set,
But the fount of inspiration
Gush through all our fancy yet.

Howsoever life may lead
A long farewell to school we say,
And to principal and teachers
Never more to point our way.
